Dunalastair Hotel Suites, in the Scottish Highlands is the ideal place to celebrate Christmas this year with friends or family, surrounded by picturesque views, wonderful food, warm and cosy interiors and an abundance of outdoor activities.

Dunalastair's Christmas packages, includes two nights' accommodation, a four-course Christmas dinner and more, for just £550 per room. You're also welcome to stay for additional nights for just £190 bed and breakfast per night.

The Christmas Offer includes:

Christmas Eve: On arrival, the hotel will greet you with a traditional yuletide drink to start your Christmas break. After taking some time to relax in your beautiful suite, you're welcome to a complimentary cream tea, or perhaps go walking in the stunning winter wonderland that is Kinloch Rannoch. Later that evening, you are invited to Edina's Kitchen for drinks and a delicious evening meal.

Christmas Day: Start your Christmas Day the right way with a hearty, traditional Scottish breakfast. Later that day sit down for a traditional, four-course Christmas dinner, complete with drinks and all the trimmings. The hotel will be showing the Queen's Speech and an assortment of family-friendly movies in the lounge, creating the perfect opportunity to sit back and relax.

Christmas Night Buffet: Of course, Christmas wouldn't be Christmas if there wasn't the opportunity to really indulge in a wealth of mouth-watering food, which is why the hotel will be rounding off the celebrations with a festive evening feast. From 7.30pm for a cold buffet comprised of Christmas classics, Scottish delicacies, and a dazzling array of delectable treats.

Boxing Day: Boxing Day means it's finally time to bid farewell, but not before you are treated with one last traditional Scottish breakfast. After that, the last morning walk around Kinloch Rannoch might just be the thing you need, or perhaps a day out to the neighboring town of Pitlochry.

Children under the age of 12 stay free when sharing a room with mum and dad. For more information visit dunalastairhotel.com or Call +44 (0)1882 580444.
